We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I happened to be in the Council Chambers on Monday evening when the appeal was heard regarding the residential care facility to be opened in Campbell. I was shocked by Councilman Paul's self-proclaimed "wrist slapping" of Sister Geraldine. I found it totally uncalled for and extremely inappropriate for a man in his position. He criticized Sister Geraldine for not contacting him. Had he given any thought to his responsibility in calling her if he felt that communication was so necessary?

I would hope that as an elected representative, Councilman Paul would be a leader in helping to improve life for ALL members of our community, especially those who are dependent on the help of others.

A SHOCKED RESIDENT

Editor's note: According to reports, Councilman Norm Paul "slapped the wrists" of both sides during the council hearing.

I'm personally in favor of the care home for the mentally retarded in Campbell but there's one thing that bothers me. While the state appears to be directing cities to allow these care homes, they haven't come through with any criteria or guidelines to keep Campbell from becoming another San Jose. There (in San Jose) the care homes are all together in one area. If the intent of the law is to give handicapped individuals the right to live in residential communities, some density ceilings are needed. Such as no more than one care home per block, or 100 homes, or whatever. Otherwise the state is defeating its own purpose.

Concerned citizen

I noticed your big headline last week about how the city fathers are "saving the school building" but I think a better title would be SAVE THE BUILDING AND SPOIL THE TREES. I can't believe that the Parks and Recreation Commission would come out with a recommendation in favor of saving trees but doing what's cheaper. That, I'd expect from a Finance Committee or a taxpayer organization. Just how much are we saving by uprooting those lovely trees?

Tree Lover

Editor's note: The unofficial word is about $30,000 which represents the difference between taking part of the west wing, and two outbuildings versus one outbuilding and five of the trees. I have no estimate on the total estimated costs for each of the proposals. And if you have strong feelings you might want to direct them to the City Council prior to the Monday, April 25 meeting when final approval is to be given to the new plan line.

A QUIET corner in bustling downtown Campbell is the grove of redwood trees on the northeast corner of the old Campbell grammar school property. Five of these large redwoods will be removed for the north loop street, city councilmen decided last week. At least two other large trees originally stood in the plan line of the loop street but, according to Public Works Director Joe Elliot, they can be saved. (Photography by Amy Huntoon)

City battles to save two redwood trees

A TREE SURGEON has been called in by the Campbell Public Works Department in an effort to save two giant redwood trees now in the plan line for the north loop street.

According to Public Works Director Joe Elliott, "We're going to try and save them, but we're not 100 per cent certain. It depends on the root systems."

The trees in question, real "beauties," according to Elliott, are located at the southwest corner of Second st., at the new loop, and at the southwest corner of First st., where it will intersect with the loop.

IN ADDITION TO getting professional advice, the city department is also proposing some minor modifications of the new loop (Civic Center drive). The three-lane street will be slightly narrowed in the two locations, Elliott explained.

"There would be a sure chance of saving the trees if the lanes were narrowed to two," Elliott continued, "but I don't feel we could do that."

Some other giant redwoods won't be faring so well with the advent of the second loop, tentatively slated for an October opening. Five of the 12 redwoods located behind the Bank of America building, on the old Campbell grammar school property, will have to come out. A new plan line, adopted by city councilmen last week, takes the trees but leaves the old school building undisturbed.

THE CITY DEPARTMENT'S concern over the two other redwoods isn't new, Elliott explained. "My predecessor (Bill Wren) also shared that concern," he said.

And the news from the tree doctor is encouraging. With special care, there's a good chance of survival for the two well-shaped redwood trees.

Downtown parking /

District hangs by a thread

By PAT SAFFORD

THE DOWNTOWN PARKING district, facing certain death last week, got a temporary reprieve at the 11th-hour and 59th-minute. But, unless the situation changes drastically, that sentence will be carried out.

Bill McLaughlin, co-owner of The Factory, persuaded councilmen to give him a chance to get support from downtown property owners before dropping the project.

And last week the city also learned the low bidder on the construction end of the project, Zipse Paving Company, Inc., will honor the bid price until June 1. It was originally due to expire in early May.

THE FUTURE OF the parking district hinges on obtaining no-cost, long-term easements for about half of the land slated for parking. Last week, city Engineering Manager Bill Helms reported just two owners, representing The Factory and The Bodega, had signed.

With the help of city staff, McLaughlin plans to try and obtain those easements. He has met twice in the last week with Helms and other staffers.

"The parking district is hanging by a thread," Public Works Director Joe Elliott said last week. At the Monday council session, Elliott said staff had prepared a resolution calling for disbanding the district. Instead, the Council said they'll hold off making a decision on the district until the first meeting in May.

RUSS FARKOUH, manager of The Factory, said Monday he and McLaughlin will be trying to work out some type of compromise with other downtown property owners. The owners have said they'll go along with five cents a square foot for the district, Farkouh said, and right now the average is 6.5 cents.

Earlier, the Council voted to allocate the entire "windfall" of federal housing and community developments funds to fixing up downtown streets. The estimated $96,000 would go into transforming downtown Campbell ave. into a semi-mall with diagonal parking and one, eastbound, meandering lane of traffic.

THE CITY HAS also spent about $110,000, including staff time, in trying to get the project off the ground. If the district fails, the city takes the loss.

"It's the 11th-hour and 59th-minute," Mayor Bill Podgorsek said of the parking district last week. "The Council and city has done all they can do."

The rest, it appeares this week, is up to McLaughlin.

There'll be more time to play on Sunday

SPRING IS a time for playfulness. A time to romp in the park, start on that suntan, sniff sweetpeas or, if you're a kitten, chase a catnip ball. This weekend you'll be getting some extra sunlight as daylight savings time goes into effect. While it's not official till midnight, Sunday, it's easier to set your clocks forward one hour before you go to bed Saturday night.

Committee says keep up leasing

The Property Advisory Committee of the Moreland School District gave their stamp of approval last week to the district's handling of unused school sites and classrooms.

In a report to the Board of Trustees the committee recommended that current leases of school buildings and rooms be continued and expanded for the balance of this year and the 1977-78 school year.

The Board approved the report.

4 per cent hike / Contract ratified by Campbell school board

Last Thursday Campbell elementary trustees ratified a 2-and-a-half month contract with certificated staff that grants a 4 per cent pay hike retroactive to the beginning of the school year. The contract expires June 30.

And that action has put a crimp in plans by Teamsters Local 911 to call for an election in the local district. Earlier, a petition was filed by the Teamsters but was dismissed as being premature. At that time there was no contract in the district.

Under the terms of the new collective bargaining act, petitions may be filed between 90 and 120 days before the expiration of a contract. Last Thursday's ratification puts the contract outside the legal "window period" for filing.

Local 911 Executive Director A. Dotson-Bennett said last week an appeal has already been filed with the Educational Employment Relations Board (EERB). He feels the local case will be a precedent-setter.

The Campbell Elementary Teachers Association is now the legal representative for teachers in the district.

If the teamster appeal fails, they could refile for an election when the contract expires June 30.

Free garbage pick up set for April 29

If you've been putting off your spring cleaning — as so many of us have — better get to it right now! If you want to have those old discardables hauled off, that is, at no charge.

The Green Valley Disposal Company will conduct a trash cleanup campaign on Friday, April 29, for their Campbell customers. All trash and discarded materials will be picked up by the scavenger company free of charge.

The following rules must be complied with — no exceptions:

- You must live within the city limits of Campbell and be a customer in good standing with Green Valley Disposal Company.
- All trash should be in front of your residence before 7 a.m. on Friday, April 29. All trash must be placed in disposable containers at the edge of the curb or in the street next to the curb. Material to be collected should not be placed on or extend into the sidewalk, driveway or yard. If it does extend into those areas, the trash will not be picked up. If your property has access to an alleyway and this is your regular pickup location, place trash in the same location.
- All trach should be placed in boxes, metal containers, or heavy duty tied plastic bags, light enough for one man to carry. Trimmings must be bundled in 4-foot lengths. No items such as furniture, appliances, boxes of dirt or rocks will be picked up.

The scavenger company will also haul away old trash cans or garbage containers if you place a note on it requesting its removal.

Class to keep the weight off set

"All diets work, but the universal problem is keeping it off," says Nancy Barwick, a professional hypnotist.

She'll be teaching a class designed to help people lose weight and keep it off starting tonight, April 20 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Hazelwood School, room 4. Fee for the five sessions is $15.

Call Campbell Community Services at 378-8141 for more information.

Loop plans may need slight modification

There may have to be some slight changes in plans for the north loop street which come before city officials at the Monday, April 25 City Council meeting. Sessions start at 8 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Present plan lines would take part of the outdoor patio area of the old Campbell grammar school site for sidewalks. According to City Manager Bob Stephens adjustments could be made to sidewalk plans to avoid taking any of the patio.

Earlier, members of the Civic Improvement Commission said that old school site might well qualify as a state historic landmark, but that destruction of the patio area might weaken the city's case if they seek such a determination.

Originally the north loop street would have taken a substantial part of the school site, including part of the west wing and two out buildings. Last week councilmen opted for a revised plan which veers to the south of the building and will take about half of a grove of trees behind a nearby bank building.

Vaughn's bid for top post fails

One trustee's bid for a leadership role on the Campbell elementary school board met defeat last week as she failed to garner any votes in support of her bid for the presidency.

Trustee Jennie Vaughn, who earlier charged she had been excluded from proper participation, got one vote (presumably her own) as the board held its annual reorganization.

Named President was Donna Biard. Vice President's spot went to Dr. Robert King and George Baker was reelected Clerk. All votes were 4-1. Earlier that evening former board president Gordon Abbott said he wouldn't accept another term as president.

At the second meeting in March Vaughn took issue with the board's policy of delegating power to the two-member Administrative Committee made up of the board president and vice president. At that time she suggested that the vice president's spot be rotated between all board members so each would get a chance to participate. That suggestion was turned down by fellow trustees.

Vaughn made it clear last Thursday, however, that, board president or not, she'll be speaking out more often in the future. During her recent campaign for reelection, Vaughn said the one criticism she kept hearing was that her voice hadn't been heard. "I was not assertive enough," she declared.

In that election she polled the highest number of votes and vowed last week that she'll again be speaking out instead of quietly trying to work with fellow board members.

Several years ago Vaughn caused a stir among fellow board members when she walked out of an executive session. At that time she charged the board was discussing items properly considered in open session.

NEW President of the Campbell Union School District Board of Trustees is Donna Baird.

I would like to commend you on your newspaper print. I have extremely poor eyesight and especially when it comes to reading. I just recently subscribed to the Campbell PRESS after recieving a complimentary copy during Campbell's birthday. Otherwise I'd have never known I could read it without much strain. Thank you.

You can't imagine the joy of reading material printed large enough, spaced well, and with bold dark ink.

Opening on senior board to be filled by council

Applications are now being accepted by the City of Campbell for a vacancy on the Executive Board of Directors of the Campbell Progressive Seniors. Deadline is May 6.

The city has one representative on the seven-member board. Ray Torres, the city's representative, resigned last month and the Board nominated William Cave to fill the vacancy.

Instead of acting on that recommendation, the City Council decided to open applications to anyone residing within the city limits who is interested in the center serving low-income seniors and who has time to attend board meetings and functions.

The volunteer Board determines policy, set rules and regulations, sets the annual budget, employees salaries and generally manages the affairs of the 41 W. Rincon ave. center.

Application forms are available at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave. Call 378-8141 for more information.

All applicants will be interviewed by the City Council at a time and place to be announced.

Just blame the drought for locked bathrooms

The drought has caused a most unlikely problem in Campbell; locked restrooms at John D. Morgan Park.

At last week's meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission one topic under discussion was why restrooms at the park are not open evenings and some weekends. Public Works Director Joe Elliott had the answer. It's a question of staffing.

Seems when the budget was drawn up last year the staffing needs for the park were calculated by figuring in the number of days, including weekends, the park would be in use. Normally, winter's rains keep people homebound for at least several weekends a year. But not this year. With so many clear, warm days Morgan Park has been in use much more than expected. And funds for staffing for the year are, "practically gone," according to Elliott.

Right now the park restrooms are open weekdays from about 9 a.m. to 5 and some weekends. Parks commissioners feel they should be open evenings until the park closes at 10 and weekends. And with the Pony-Colt league getting underway next week, the park will be busier than ever.

Elliott planned to bring the problem of additional staffing needs up Monday night at the Commission's study session with the City Council.

Empty spot in the park will stay for awhile

There's still a big empty space at Campbell Park, since the worn-out Air Force training jet play structure was removed several months ago. And it may be awhile before there's a replacement.

The problem is that there's too many suggestions for that replacement.

Last week the Parks and Recreation Commission, who has $21,700 to spend on the project, decided to appoint a sub-committee to narrow down the possibilities.

Chairman Hank Carey and Commissioner Norm Glover will meet with city staff and come back with a proposal at the May meeting.

$1.4 million in building last month

The building boom continues in Campbell with $1.4 million in building activity recorded for March compared to $325,000 last year at this time.

Total for the first three months of the year is $6.2 million compared to $653,000 for 1976.

Apartment construction and industrial buildings made up the majority of permits issued. Largest was the 15-unit apartment at 86 W. Rincon ave. by Richard E. Kline valued at $327,801. Second and third spot in valuation were the office and warehouse at 557 Salmar ave. for Salmar Partnership ($235,897) and an industrial building at 544 E. McGlincey lane for Oliver Nelson ($233,728).

Other large building projects were a 6-unit apartment at 160 Michael drive ($136,377), a 6-unit apartment at 164 Michael drive ($136,377), a 3-unit apartment at 224 N. Central ave ($99,592) and a four-plex at 620 Gamma ct. ($95,080).

High rise apartment plans get a delay

Plans for a high rise apartment for senior citizens got a delay recently as city planners continued the matter to the May 3 meeting so they could review the environmental impact report.

Robert O. Sargeant, on behalf of the Santa Clara Methodist Retirement Foundation, Inc. is seeking approval of plans to construct the 9-story 168 unit apartment at 1655 S. Winchester blvd., near the Hamilton ave. intersection. The federally-subsidized complex would operate exclusively for seniors.

The EIR report on the project was received on April 1, according to a staffer. That didn't allow enough time for review before the April 5 meeting.

In other action the Commission;

- Granted a one year extension on the development schedule for a 130-unit senior housing development for 601 El Patio drive.
- Unanimously denied the sign application for Ft. Worth, Texas at 1545 W. Campbell ave.
- Continued for two weeks the application of Allen R. Arthur for a use permit and approval of plans for a Del Taco fast food restaurant with drive-through facilities at 200 E. Hamilton ave.
- Approved plans to construct a medical-dental building at 18 E. Hamilton ave. with the proviso that Campbell Community Hospital obtain a use permit for ingress and egress of the property. Nearby property owners were concerned with the traffic impact of the development on Ester ave.
- Approved, on a 6-1 vote, plans and a use permit to convert a residence at 2175 S. Bascom ave. into a veterinary hospital. Commissioner Don Hebard cast the single "no" vote.
- Recommended approval to the City Council on several projects including the change of zoning and plans for 24 single family homes at 1545 Bucknall rd., Richard Millen's plans for 27 townhouses at 450 Union ave. and plans for a retail commercial building at 471 E. Campbell ave. by Donald Imwalle.

Arraignment set

Local pair indicted on 16 counts tax evasion

An investigation of federal projects in the Bay Area led to the indictment last week of a Campbell couple on charges of attempted income tax evasion and filing false federal income tax returns.

Wildred L. Bourassa, 51, and his wife Elizabeth M. Bourassa, 51, 1131 Shamrock dr., were indicted by a federal grand jury late Wednesday on four counts each of attempted income tax evasion and four counts each of filing false returns.

According to the U.S. Attorney's office, if convicted on all 16 charges, the Bourassas could be sentenced to a maximum of 20 years imprisonment each and could be fined $60,000.

A spokesman at the San Francisco Attorney General's office said Monday that an overall investigation of the Department of Housing and Urban Development projects in the Bay Area showed the local couple, who operate the B & B Painting Company, had more revenues than reported on their tax return. The firm was a frequent subcontractor to contractors on HUD jobs during 1970 through 1973.

The government is charging the Bourasses under-reported gross receipts by $39,701.05 for 1970 through 1973. Total tax alledgedly evaded for the four years was set at $8,386.25.

In additional to criminal charges, the couple will face civil proceedings by the Internal Revenue Service to collect unpaid taxes, penalties and interest after conclusion of the criminal case.

Arraignment has been set for April 27 in San Francisco.

Actions speak louder

Trustee Jennie Vaughn's decisive defeat at last Thursday's school board meeting does more than any statement of hers to prove her case.

The Campbell elementary trustee had earlier charged she had been excluded from proper participation as an elected board member. That charge was hotly denied by new President Donna Baird. Vaughn's bid to be board president failed and her name was not even mentioned for any of the other board offices. Her punishment for speaking out, it appears, was rejected by fellow board members.

But one thing trustees fail to recognize is that the board's operation isn't, or shouldn't be, a popularity contest.

The Campbell elementary board might do well to look to the West Valley College board, where politics has lessened the board's stature, and effectiveness. In that board reorganization Trustee Foster Lopes was chastized by the majority for his failure to support other incumbents in the election. Due to be this year's board president, Lopes found himself out of the running instead.

The Campbell Union High School District recently adopted a rotational system of electing board officers. The Campbell City Council and Planning Commission has used this system effectively for years.

Trustees or other elected officials may differ in their leadership qualities but the fact remains they were ALL elected to leadership roles in the community. And all should have a chance to serve in that capacity.

CLASSY L.O.L.

One of the hits of the "Prunes A Poppin" variety show put on for the city's 25th birthday was Madeline Hanks, who played the Little Old Lady trying to get out of the way of Campbell's traffic jam.

There was no problem with casting. Madeline was perfect for the part. She's little and 86 years old.

The only problem was with costume. Seems Madeline didn't have any Little Old Lady clothes and had to borrow some for the performance.

IMPRESSIVE SIGN-UP

When Louie Albanese, principal at Campbell Junior High School, reported a fantastic 96 per cent of the 7th and 8th grade girls had signed up for the self-defense class it sounded too good to be true. Even coed-cooking (one of the most popular courses) doesn't have a record like that.

A few questions led to the answer for the impressive turnout. The girls have a choice. Self-defense . . . or wrestling.

We hear you

In your last issue you published a (comment) from "A Concerned Parent)) regarding two attempted rapes which happened in John Morgan Park or on the campus of Campbell Junior High. Unfortunately, it was not made clear to the readers that the two incidents happened on Washington's Birthday, a school holiday, when no school employees were on duty.

The Campbell Junior High staff and I read about the incident in the Campbell PRESS issue of Feb. 23 at which time the vice principal inquired to the Police Department for details.

It should be interesting to our community members that a two-week course in self-defense is offered to all seventh and eighth grade students at the beginning of the school year. Approximately 96 per cent of the girls opted for this selection where special emphasis was given to PREVENTION in addition to some basic skills of defense. The students have been given specific instruction about risky places, times and circumstances which should be avoided.

Most of us wholeheartedly share the concern stated by "Concerned Parent." We are interested in preventing this type criminal action and welcome any and all suggestions as to what we might do. If there is any question regarding us protecting your students during school hours, a visit to the school campus may clear this up. Naturally, to maintain our security and safety standards, authorization to visit the school campus must be obtained through me or Mr. Hoyt, our vice principal. Visitors are always welcome.

Louie Albanese,
Principal Campbell
Junior High School

Editor's note: The "We Hear You" comment, included the notation that the Principal could not be reached for comment on the allegation that he was trying to "cover up the truth." The truth of the matter is that school was closed that week for Easter vacation and (naturally) Albanese was not at school when staffers attempted to call him. He was contacted last Tuesday and immediately stated he wished to respond.

It's time to put the wagons in a circle

EDITOR:

This is an open letter to downtown Campbell small business owners, landlords and the Chamber of Commerce.

Downtown changes bring problems and challenges. The Campbell PRESS has aired many of these during the past months. It appears to me that each of you involved has one of two choices: You can either allow yourself to be overcome by the changes around you, or you can accept them, and then find ways to put them to use for the benefit of you and your customers.

Why not band together and draw into a circle of comradeship and mutual defense, much as the pioneers did in their covered wagons? Thus you could gain needed courage, ideas, and support from each other.

I propose a planning group composed of tenants and landlords of downtown Campbell to consider the prospects and problems of mutual assistance. (It would be helpful if the Chamber would coordinate this action and provide use of its resources.) This group could set up smaller working committees to consider such questions as:

In what ways do the downtown businesses complement each other?

What can be done together to help everyone succeed?

What kind of help can the stronger businesses offer to some of the smaller or struggling ones harder hit by the impact of change? Or should they help? Should the weaker, less competitive businesses be encouraged to drop out and stronger businesses found to replace them?

What does each downtown business know about the others? Can it recommend the services of a neighboring business when a customer is in need, thus doing a favor for both?

Are individual retail and service businesses willing to make some sacrifices of time and effort and other adjustments in order to bring greater benefit to the whole business community?

What can be done to improve communications and understanding among downtown business people?

What can be done to unify downtown businesses and The Factory in a direction that will benefit all?

What can be done with the area and businesses to provide healthy competition to the outlying shopping centers?

What are the strong points of the area and how can a unified advertising approach be adopted to bring out this potential to area customers?

What can the businesses do together to protect each other from unscrupulous customers, shoplifters, thieves, etc.?

How can the quality and appeal of downtown businesses be upgraded?

The record of small business is quite plain. Those who plan, generally succeed; those who fail to plan, fail. The challenges of today are forcing you to decide. Which way will YOU go?

Because of my background with small business planning, Chamber of Commerce work, and long-time family roots in Campbell, I would be delighted to assist in getting a downtown group started. As a beginning, if you have any comments on this letter and would like to reach me, my phone number is 264-2273.

Here's to the future prosperity of downtown Campbell.

16 per cent voter turnout is no mandate

EDITOR:

I read with interest the letter written by Robert Crawford-Drobot in one of the March issues of the Campbell PRESS. In his letter he intimates that West Valley College District's governing board now has a mandate to do certain things.

I question Mr.Drobot's conclusion that the governing board has a mandate to do anything. When only 16 per cent of the electorate turns out to vote in an election, it is hard to conclude that "a mandate" has indeed been given.

Mr. Crawford-Drobot says he speaks for the Community College Review Council, at least as their advisor. I have never seen any other names attached to this organization and wondered if you could tell me the names of the officers and members of this organization. Mr. Crawford-Drobot's name is the only name I have seen attached to this group. I am familiar with his name since he is married to Sheri Crawford-Drobot, a part-time instructo in the college district, who filed suit against the district for a full-time position sometime last year.

It would seem if there really is a Community College Review Council in existence, someone else should be speaking for the group, rather than Mr. Crawford-Drobot, since a conflict of interest could exist for him with his wife's suit against the district.

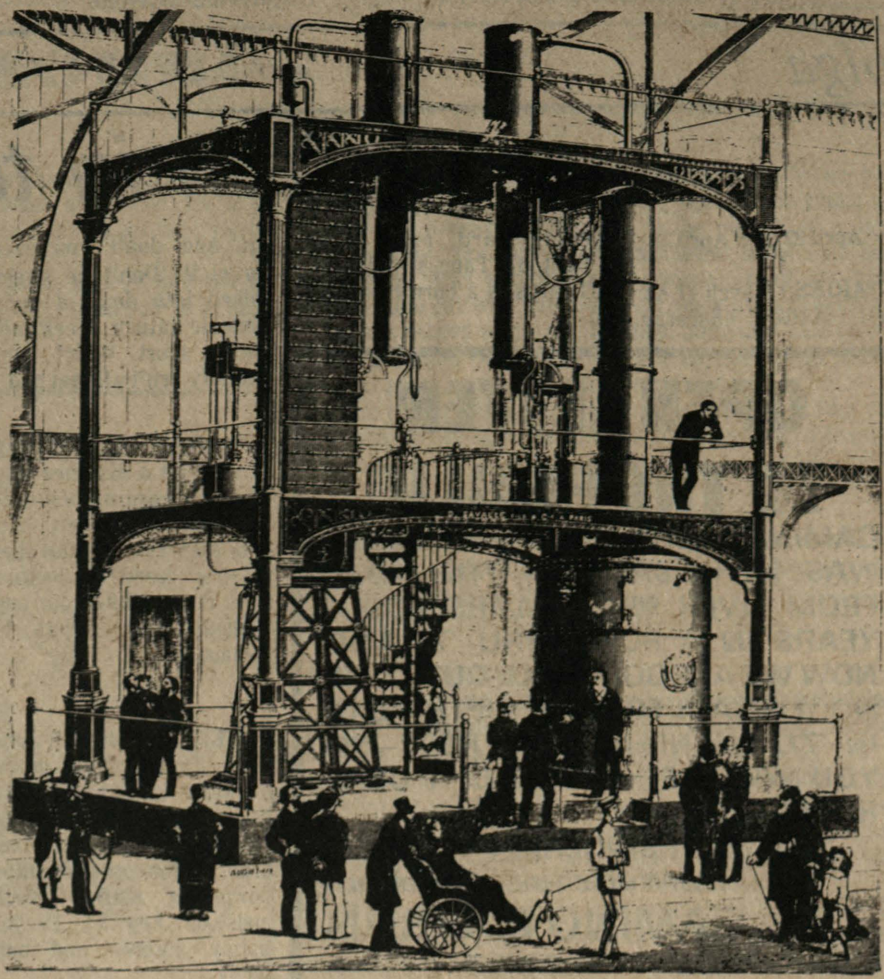
COFFEE CRISIS

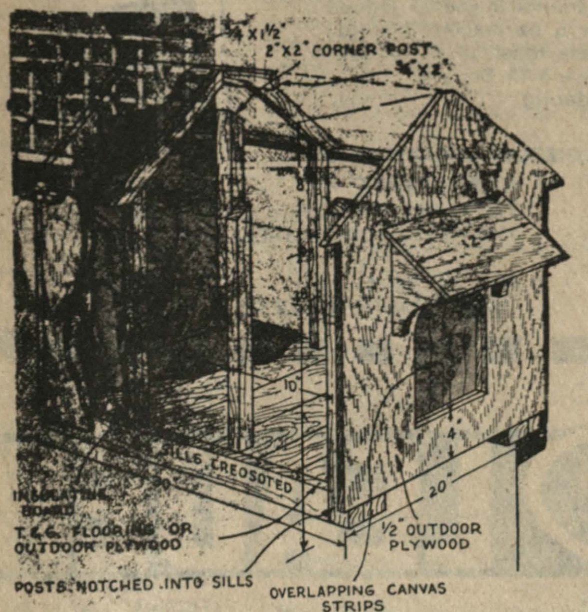
With the price of coffee currently hovering close to the $3 per pound range, alarmed citizens are desperately seeking answers to the problem.

Solutions proffered so far have included substitution of alternative beverages, recycling of used coffee grounds and attempts at home-growing of the precious beans in backyard greenhouses.

A number of former coffee devotees have managed to switch good grace and equanimity to grits for breakfast. Attitude is an important factor.



With the restaurant industry in mind as their major market, ingenious entrepreneurs are conducting extensive experiments in devising machinery to dry and reactivate used coffee grounds for recycling into the basis for new batches of the costly brew.



Backyard greenhouses for home-growing of coffee beans are growing in popularity. Electrical or solar heating simulates a steamy, jungle-like climate.

Although many longtime coffee consumers are adapting painlessly to less expensive substitutes, a few less fortunate persons have suffered unsettling withdrawal symptoms.

Innovative homemakers have discovered hot Kool-Aid as an interesting substitute for coffee. For variety, different colors can be served at different times of the day, such as red as an eye-opener in the morning, yellow or orange for afternoon pick-me-ups and green for a soothing after dinner beverage. Bouillon and teas — both traditional and herbal — are other alternative beverages catching the public fancy.

Clinic's surprising findings

Sleep: do we really need it?

By SUSAN COHEN

EVERYONE DOES IT. Some people do it too much, some too little. Science is not sure there is any real reason to do it at all.

It's called sleep and it's the subject of study at the Stanford Sleep Clinic, the largest of the dozen or so such clinics in the country.

At Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto, using machines which plot the patterns of a patient's night sleep, researchers delve into the mysteries of our night times. They also try to help people suffering from a variety of sleep disorders who come from all over the Bay Area.

The disorders can be as common as insomnia or as exotic as apnea and narcolepsy. "There are diseases we have found that occur only during sleep," explains Dorothy Kunkin, information editor at the center. She assists director, Dr. William C. Dement, who began the clinic about five years ago.

Probably one of the most exotic forms of sleep disorder is called sleep apnea, also called the snoring disease.

Its sufferers are mostly middle aged men who are also overweight and who complain that while they seem to sleep all night, they are sleepy the next day. It is usually their spouse who tells the doctor that the man also snores very heavily, since he may be unaware of doing it.

"What we think happens is that the muscles collapse" and block the throat, Kunkin explains. The snoring is actually gasping for breath by the patient, who may stop breathing from 30 seconds to three minutes as many as two hundred times a night.

"We have people coming to us because they've been divorced or lost jobs because they were sleepy all day, even though they thought they were sleeping all night," Kunkin says. Another form of the illness is combined with insomnia.

APNEA CAN ACTUALLY be very dangerous since it puts a strain on the heart. Kunkin says there have been "cases of sudden death during the night."

The major treatment for the disorder, which affects about 150,000 people, is to puncture the windpipe. The hole is plugged during the day and unplugged during the night. Kunkin suggests that anyone who is an extremely loud, heavy snorer and who is sleepy much of the time should contact the clinic.

People who do come into the center are usually asked to come in for the night and to fall asleep naturally. The only difference is that they are hooked up to a machine which measures respiration, muscle action and brainwaves. The machine makes a sleep recording, called polysomnography, which doctors use in diagnosis.

Like apnea, narcolepsy is another disorder of the central nervous system. Its sufferers are people who are not only sleepy during the day, but who also suffer from sleep attacks. During any activity — from sex to dinner, while talking or driving a car — they can fall suddenly asleep. times a day or week, although Kunkin says one patient had them almost continuously.

"We have films of someone just about to catch a ball," she relates, "then, in a couple of seconds, he slumps and falls."

Many of these people also suffer frightening, vivid hallucinations while trying to go to sleep or during an attack.

Kunkin estimates there may be as many as 250,000 narcoleptics in the country, many of them misdiagnosed. "It's a very depressing disorder for people to have," she explains. "They suffer embarrassment and some have even been misdiagnosed as schizophrenic."

This disorder strikes women as often as men and appears to be at least partially hereditary. An association of patients, called the American Narcolepsy Association, has been formed in Belmont.

Not only people suffer from narcolepsy. The center is now studying dogs with the same disorder, including Monique, a poodle sent down from Canada, who received sizeable publicity because of her affliction.

BUT BY FAR THE most common disorder of sleep is insomnia, a complaint made by an estimated 20-30 million people. "It's a complaint," Kunkin says, "not a disease in itself" and may stem from many different causes.

"The major cause is sleeping pills," Kunkin states. "Sleeping pills actually cause insomnia." The drugs can lead to sleeplessness in three days to a week of steady use, she asserts. "It causes severe sleep disturbance and it's a vicious cycle. People increase their dosage and their sleep gets worse."

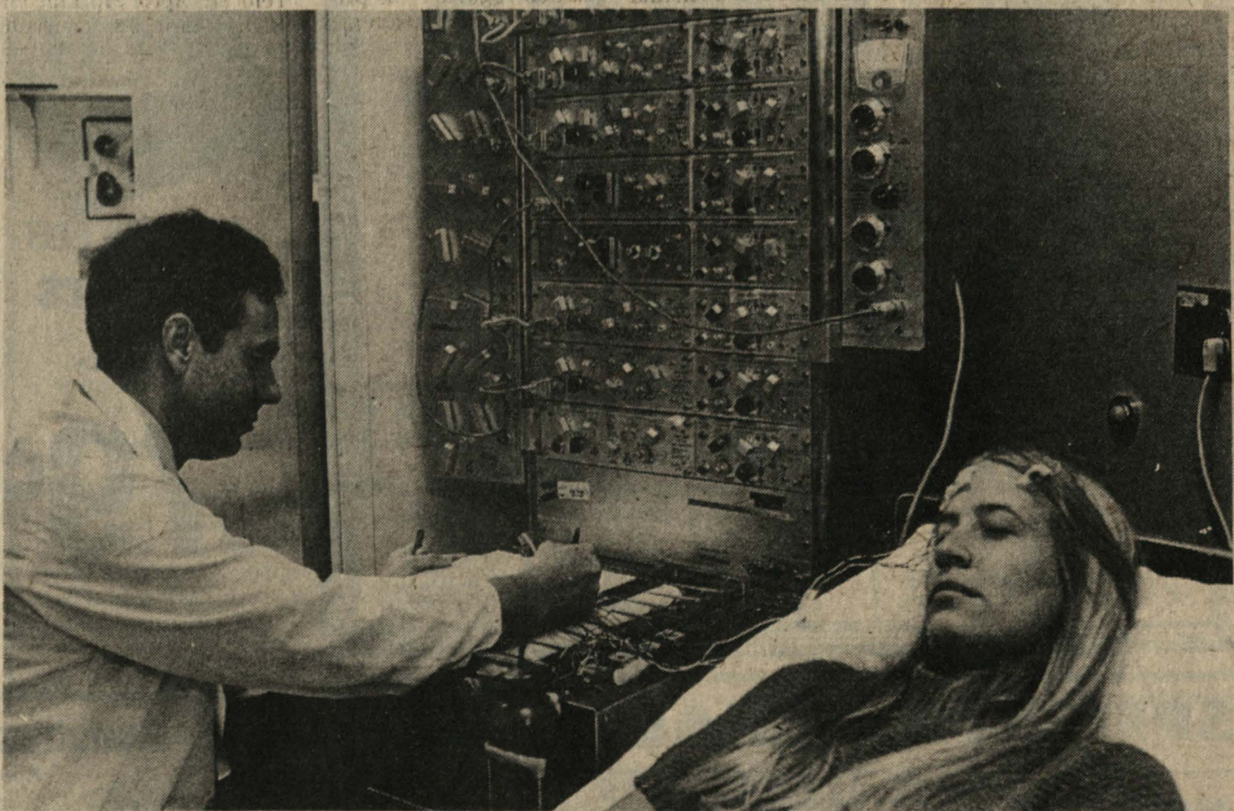
"Alcohol also causes sleep disturbance. The same with marijuana."

"The major message," according to Kunkin, "is not to get hooked on sleeping pills." If you are, sudden withdrawal can lead to even more sleeplessness. People who are dependent on drugs and who come into the clinic are monitored during their sleep and then entered upon a gradual withdrawal program, usually until they are entirely off medication.

The clinic often finds that insomnia sufferers are actually experiencing pseudo-insomnia. The patient insists he can't sleep. A sleep recording is made and his sleep is normal. "He's swearing it takes two to three hours to fall asleep," Kunkin says. "But the average insomniac takes 15-20 minutes and sleeps 6-8 hours."

ONE COLLEGE PROFESSOR retired early because he thought his insomnia was disrupting his life. He resumed his job when he was shown the sleep recording which indicated he was actually getting an adequate amount of sleep.

"We don't consider it a serious illness unless someone gets less than 6½ hours of sleep a night or the symptoms during the day are serious," Kunkin says.



SLEEP CLINIC researchers monitor a patient's sleep patterns by means of polysomnography, using a machine which measures respiration, muscle activity and brain waves.

Insomnia can also be caused by nocturnal myoclonus, regular periodic jerks of the muscles in the leg which interrupt sleep. Drugs can help this, although sleeping pills don't.

Sometimes sleeplessness is caused by a disruption in biological rhythms common, for instance, among travellers or people who go to bed at erratic hours.

But there are also normal insomniacs — people who naturally need little sleep. Some sleep as little as three or four hours a night and Kunkin remembers one woman who regularly only slept a half-hour. "They don't complain," she says, "they just make use of it." Some of them hold down both a daytime and night time job.

"One home remedy for insomnia is regular sleeping hours, avoiding a large meal before bedtime, exercise during the day and surrounding sleep with a pleasant ritual such as warm milk," Kunkin suggests. Some people find transcendental meditation or biofeedback, methods which help people relax, helpful in cases of insomnia.

How much sleep do we need? Seven to eight hours is average, Kunkin says. That decreases with age and older people often sleep only four to six hours a night.

"The normal is the amount a person needs to be fully awake or alert," she says and can vary from six to 12 hours. "The psychological need for sleep differs. But if no amount of sleep permits you to feel fully awake, you should look into some other cause."

For the normal person, exercise can prevent sleepiness during the day.

SURPRISINGLY, the sleep clinic has found in its experiments no real need for sleep according to Kunkin. "There is no proven scientific need for sleep," she states. The only proven reason is to prevent sleepiness.

But sleep deprivation experiments have not borne out the hypothesis that lack of sleep leads to psychotic reactions. "There's no proof whatsoever that lack of sleep can cause mental or physical disintegration," Kunkin says.

During the summer, the clinic recruits children to volunteer for sleep experiments. Some sleep all day. Others are deprived of sleep. What reserachers have found, Kunkin says, is that the lack of sleep has "not hurt the kids at all — but it drove the technicians crazy."

> One of the major causes of insomnia, according to the clinic, is sleeping pills — The drugs can lead to sleeplessness in three days to a week of steady use.

Cash in the picture this week, Aries

April 23 thru April 29

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Matter concerning cold, hard cash highlighted. Taurus involved. Taurus is a born charmer, Ari, and don't you ever forget it. Don't be sweet-talked into deal of questionable nature. Week ends with a snort. Which, incidentally, isn't all that bad.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): One at a distance who longs to communicate is probably muttering: "Ah, to be with Taurus, now that April's here!" Before week is complete your cup runneth over. Trieth to remain calm.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Established partnership moves along smoothly. However, as new relationship comes into orbit your magnetic pull is downright sinful! Week ends on key of B, for balmy, banter and butterfly.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Though you are seldom pushy or obviously agressive, you usually get your own way. Indirection is your key to success. Others often acquiese to your wishes without quite knowing why. Busy week ends with a chuckle.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Read message to Aries. Stick close to home base, Leo. No pub-crawling allowed. That which appears so nice and green on the other side of fence is probably crab grass.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept 22): One with highfalutin plans enters picture. Money is involved. Yours. Tie a rope around you wallet, Virgo, and week has good chance of ending on a cheerful note.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Hair-trigger balance must be maintained where head and heart are concerned. Just one foolish slip on your part, Libra, and week winds up an absolute shamble.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Romance, career and fata all come together this week, Scorp, and some decisions are taken out of your hands. Week of personal adventure ends on key of D, for drama.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You must relinquish some of your precious independence this week, Saj, in order to keep important promise. Week of confusion ends on key of B, for boss, budget and BLAH!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan 19): Born under the sign of The Goat you climb in one direction only . . . UP. Because you are so upwardly mobile, Cap, you won't tolerate (for long) any job, partnership, romance which seems to lack potential. Decision-making week ends with a squawk.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): If burden you carry seems too heavy, Aquari then dump what is least essential. Taurus helps you get through week unscathed. Before last day, Cupid flirts. Flirt back.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You are not going to deal in regret this week, for regret is negative. And you, Pisces, are going to be positive this week, is that clear? Stop whining over spilled chablis. It was just cheap training wine anyway.

TRYING TO HELP?

A 17 year old local youth was arrested on charges of impersonating an officer last week after a series of incidents in which he passed himself off as an investigator of police officer.

According to reports, the youth's forays into law enforcement included questioning an employee in a pizza parlor to make sure several female patrons drinking beer were of legal age, questioning neighbors of one young woman, and presenting himself to the owner of a local cleaners as "protection" against some suspicious boys he'd seen. This owner became suspicious of her "protector" and called a friend to come and stay with her.

When picked up later, the youth allegedly said he was sorry for using the badge but said he did it, "to protect people and stop the wrong things he saw."

The police report discounted this motive, noting that the youth concerntrated his attention on young, attractive women.

APARTMENT ROBBED

A Campbell man came back from dinner with his relatives to find his Echo ave. apartment broken into and his stereo equipment gone.

Value was set at $2,500.

ASSAULT ARREST

An 18-year-old Santa Clara youth was arrested last week on an assault with a deadly weapon charge after an incident in the parking lot of the Pruneyard.

Two women told police they were accosted in the parking lot and that the suspect grabbed one woman and held a knife to her throat. She struggled to get free and received a cut on one hand. The suspect fled and was spotted a short distance away and arrested.

At the police station he impressed arresting officers by reciting all the penal code sections he could have been charged with, including 245a (the ADW charge).

The youth is a law enforcement major at a local college.

ARMED ROBBERY

There were two armed robberies in Campbell last week.

The first occurred at the Terrible Herbst station at 1311 Camden ave. when a suspect held up the manager at gunpoint as he was counting the day's receipts last Monday.

Last Friday the Delta Queen Car Wash was held up, the second time this month, and the suspect escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash. According to witnesses, the suspect was at the car wash earlier and came back after other patrons had left.

$3,000 BURGLARY

A garage on N. Milton ave. was broken into last Friday and a motorcycle valued at $3,000 stolen.

"MENU" DAMAGED

The menu panel at the Jack in the Box restaurant on S. Bascom ave. was broken recently and it cost the company more than the $300 it will take to repair the damage.

According to reports, the gas system also went out when the panel was broken, and estimated loss of business before power could be restored was an additional $500.

APARTMENT HIT THRICE

The Greenery Apartments at 999 W. Hamilton ave. was the target of arsonists three times in the last two weeks. All fires were set in the dumpster in the carport area.

The first occurred April 8 with other incidents reported April 10 and 11. The second fire ignited part of the carport roof and damages from the third incident were estimated at $100.

Fire department arson inspectors are handling the case.

JR. HIGH BURGLED

The science room at Campbell Junior High School was broken into last Friday and a 22 caliber rifle valued at $60 reported missing.

The culprit(s) may have left some evidence behind. School officials found a handwritten note at the scene which the teacher said wasn't there Thursday afternoon.

TRIPLETS UP FOR ADOPTION

Three Labrador puppies, all black, must find new lodgings soon as they're ready to leave their mommy to strike out on their own. The 8-week-olds love to play with children, are frisky and affectionate, and ready to move right in. Call 379-1728 if you're interested.

SHE'S SMALL BUT AGRESSIVE

A female Terrier and Husky mix — "a very good watch dog" — will be given away free to someone who needs an "agressive, very intelligent dog who's good with the children in the family." She's been obedience trained and is house broken. The 2-year-old, 16 pound dog can be had by calling 379-3549 or 258-5697.

DISAPPEARED A WEEK AGO

Missing since Wednesday, April 13, is a female Keeshond — similar to a husky but with longer fur — from the neighborhood of Budd and San Tomas Expressway. The 5-year-old, black and silver dog who "has a lighter than usual coat for a Keeshond and big ears" was wearing no collar when she wandered off. She is about 30 to 35 pounds and is described as "quite shy." Call 374-5338 if you see her.

THEY CAN'T KEEP HIM

A young man who recently graduated from West Valley College, moved to Los Angeles and left his female, black and white, 1-year-old Collie and Shepherd mix dog with his Campbell family. But they can no longer keep "Sheila" — who has all her shots — and must find a good home soon. Call Al at 379-2562 if you want Sheila.

LOVES TO PLAY BALL

Tag is a "loving, nice little dog who has had all his shots." The little Terrier mix, 18-month-old pup is good with children and good at fetching a ball. Call Marty at 379-5732 evenings if you have a home waiting for Tag.

Heat's still going up. Insulate.

The cost of heating a house is still going up. Hot air rises, too. That's why the attic is often where most home heat is lost. And your attic may be insulated, but inadequately, without your even knowing it. Insulating an attic to R-19, the recommended standard, can save up to 25% of your heat. And you'll be more comfortable.

In a typical California house it should cost about $300 to $400 if you get a qualified contractor to do it. Less if you do it yourself.

So send for our free insulation booklet. It tells you how to check whether your insulation is adequate, and if not, what to do.

PG&E wants to help you save energy and keep your bills from going out of sight.

Summer camp for elderly

WHO EVER heard of sending senior citizens to summer camp? The Salvation Army.

Many seniors never have a vacation. They know only the inner city and the confines their limited incomes impose.

To remedy this, the Salvation Army today announced it will have a special senior citizens week from June 21-27 at Camp Redwood Glen, located in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

Seniors can participate in camp programs adjusted to their physical requirements, including swimming, crafts, games, overnight camp-outs, and plenty of socializing.

For further information write The Salvation Army, Camp Bureau, Youth Secretary's Office, P.O. Box 3465, San Francisco, 94119.

Ms. Carrie Ayers Haynes, author of "Good News on Grape Street — The Transformation of a Ghetto School," is featured speaker at the California state convention of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for women in education, April 29-May 1 at the San Jose Hyatt House. Co-chairpersons for the conclave are Jeanette Simons, teacher at Cupertino's Hyde junior high and Marjorie Myers, teacher at Santa Clara's Scott Lane school.

Water commission to discuss shortage

THE SANTA Clara Valley Water Commission will meet Thursday, April 21, at the Rinconada water treatment plant in Los Gatos.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. at 400 More ave.

Commission members will discuss current water conditions, water savings and reclamation, the federal San Felipe Project and the May 31, $56 million revenue bond election.

The commission is advisory to the Santa Clara Valley Water District Board of Directors. All 15 Santa Clara County cities, the county, the South Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District and the Santa Clara Valley Water District are represented.

Support for metric veek from Riles

STATE SCHOOLS chief Wilson Riles has announced that the Department of Education will support National Metric Week, May 9-13, to encourage all Californians to use the metric system in their daily lives.

"As the United States prepares to join 90 per cent of the world population already using the metric system, schools have a responsibility to educate students and the public," said Riles.

The Department of Education's mathematics education task force currently provides training sessions and materials for teachers using metrics in classrooms throughout California.

Judd paces Campbell rout

Bucs demolish Dons, move into tie for 2nd

DEL MAR'S recent domination over the Campbell Buccaneers ended last Thursday afternoon on the Dons' diamond.

The Dons, who had beaten the Bucs the last three times they had met, were the victims of a humbling 14-3 rout last week at the hands of Gordon Huntze's Campbell crew.

"It was almost a must win situation for us," admitted Huntze afterwards. "Obviously, it was our most important win to date. It kept us right in the thick of things."

Campbell's victory, coupled with Blackford's 4-3 win over Camden, knocked the Dons out of a share of first place in the West Valley Athletic League and into a second place tie with the Bucs.

Blackford, thanks to the Bucs, moved into sole possession of first with an 8-1 record while Del Mar and Campbell sat in second with 7-2 ledgers. The Leigh Longhorns were in fourth with a 6-3 log.

Thursday, the eighth place Camden Cougars host Del Mar, the last place Branham Bruins visit Campbell, Blackford treks to Westmont and Los Gatos welcomes Leigh. All games are set to start at 3:30 p.m.

"I was very impressed by their performance," said Del Mar head coach Gary Cunningham, after watching the Bucs pound three of his pitchers for 21 hits. "They were out to get some revenge. They came out like gangbusters."

DESPITE THE final outcome, the game was actually a close contest for six innings, one that Del Mar could have won had it cashed in on several scoring opportunities.

Del Mar loaded the bases with one or no outs in three separate innings on the day but managed to tally just two runs out of those opportunities.

The key to the contest came in the bottom of the fifth after Campbell had rallied for four runs to take an 8-2 lead.

Campbell starter Mark Sullivan, who was wild all afternoon, got into immediate trouble by loading the bases with nobody out and had to give way to reliever Wes Mitchell.

Mitchell came on to serve up a sacrifice fly to Tom Bell and then got the next two batters to line out and pop up.

One inning later the Bucs turned the game into a laugher by exploding for five runs.

Cliff Judd started the decisive seventh inning rally with a one out single. Judd proceeded to steal second and third and scored, following a walk to Steve Tindall, on a passed ball.

Mitchell kept the inning going with a drag bunt single, which moved Tindall to third. Mike Updegraph then bounced into a force out at second, plating Tindall.

Consecutive singles by Sullivan and Frank Giammona produced another run before Mark Ryan capped the uprising with a two run triple.

JUDD PACED the Campbell bat assault on the day with two triples, two singles and three stolen bases. Ryan, who raised his batting average in league play to .466, clubbed four hits in five at bats and drove in three runs. Giammona also lashed four hits, including a pair of doubles, and drove in one run.

Tindall was three for three on the day and drove in three runs while Brian Bagley was two for four and knocked in a pair of runs.

The Bucs' big bat attack raised their team batting average to .323 in WVAL play and their on-base average to .500.

Sullivan, despite hitting four batters and walking six others, notched the win. Mitchell hurled three shut-out innings of relief to record the save.

Tom Harris, who had a string of three straight wins against the Bucs, was tagged with the loss, yielding 12 hits and seven runs in four and one-third innings on the mound.

The Dons were coming off a 9-0 triumph over Los Gatos two days earlier, which had extended a six game winning streak (including four straight in the Menlo-Atherton tournament).

Jeff Blobaum went the distance on the mound for the win, raising his record to 4-0 with a neat four-hit shut-out. The Del Mar hurler walked no one, struck out four and threw just 69 pitches, 52 for strikes.

"He was overpowering," praised Cunningham. "It was by far his best effort of the season."

BLOBAUM HAD a one-hitter through five innings before yielding a hit in the sixth and two more in the seventh. Only one Wildcat runner reached third in the contest.

Blobaum received the only runs he was to really need in the second inning. Mike Rusconi led-off with a walk and promptly stole second. Two outs later, Craig Richesin singled to deep shortstop and Rusconi hustled all the way home.

Dan McKay, celebrating his 17th birthday, then lashed the first pitch he saw for a double to centerfield, scoring Richesin.

In the third, Tom "Doc" Medica singled but was out at the plate trying to score on a Dan "Yogi" Taylor double to left-center. The Dons still picked up two runs, however, when Bell unloaded a tremendous home run to leftfield.

In the fourth, Mark Intrieri belted a solo home to left, his second HR of the season.

Del Mar added two more runs in both the fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth, Medica scored on the front end of a double steal and Rusconi plated Bell with a sacrifice fly. In the sixth, Taylor laced a two run single to right, scoring pinch-runner Bob Quadros and Eric Richesin.

E. Richesin turned in the defensive gem of the day with a sliding catch of a twisting flyball down the leftfield line, helping Blobaum to preserve his shut-out.

Campbell, meanwhile, dumped Prospect 9-4 in its game last Tuesday, scoring seven runs in the first two innings.

MART ORTIZ notched the win, with last inning relief help from Mitchell.

Home runs by Mitchell and Bagley, who drove in four runs, paced the Buccaneers' 10-hit assault. Mitchell, who is hitting at a .448 clip in WVAL play, also roped a double.

Blackford continued its drive to the play-offs by posting a pair of one run decisions over the fourth place Leigh Longhorns and Camden Cougars.

The Braves captured a 5-4 decision against Leigh last Tuesday, scoring all five of their runs in the bottom of the second.

Despite managing just two hits, Blackford still came away with a 4-3 triumph against Camden two days later, scoring all four runs in the bottom of the second.

Brandt double paces WVC swimmers at GGC finals

NOT MANY things can be done in one-hundredth of a second. It's faster than a snap of the fingers, a flick of the wrist or the blink of an eye!

But as fast as it is, it was enough time for the Diablo Valley College 400 medley relay team to register a victory over West Valley College at the Golden Gate Conference swimming championships last weekend.

And as close as that race was, that was how close West Valley and Diablo Valley were in the two day GGC meet at Chabot when 11 conference records were broken in the 18 events contested.

One of the records went to the Diablo Valley College 400 medley relay team at 3:35.46 with West Valley finishing a photo-finish second at 3:35.47. Mike Wagnon, Lance Michaelis (Santa Clara), Bill Yates (Santa Clara) and Warren Schenstrom (Lynbrook) got together for the second for the Vikes.

But even though West Valley was denied a conference record in that event, the Vikings weren't shut-out in the record department in the meet.

Bob Mangan (Santa Clara) and Michaelis each came up with GGC record setting performances to lead the Viking show at the finals.

Mangan set a pair of records for the Vikings, winning the 1,650 free at 16:28.91 to crush the old mark of 16:50.59 and winning the 500 free at 4:44.77 to snap the old standard of 4:45.05. He was also second in the 200 at 1:41.10.

MICHAELIS, the National junior college record holder in the 200 breast, won his specialty in GGC record time at 2:10.43 to break the old mark of 2:12.02 set in 1975 by West Valley's Greg Smith. Michaelis also won the 100 breast at 1:00.08.

Herb Brandt (Del Mar) was another double winner in the conference meet for West Valley, winning the one meter diving event with 421.80 points and taking the three meter diving event with 407.10 points.

Dave Hendrickson (Santa Clara), Wagnon and Schenstrom were strong performers in the GGC meet for West Valley.

Hendrickson was second in the 400 individual medley at 4:18.13, second in the 200 IM at 1:59.37 and second in the 200 breast at 2:16.69 for the Vikes and Wagnon was second in the 100 back at 56.49, second in the 200 back at 2:02.09 and third in the 200 IM at 1:59.46. Schenstrom was third in the 500 free at 4:52.20, third in the 200 free at 1:46.50 and fourth in the 100 free at 48.74.

Steve Peckham (Campbell) was third from the one meter diving board at 349.15 and fifth from the three meter board at 311.75 for WVC and Tim Fisher (Westmont) was third in the 1,650 free at 17:02.22 and sixth in the 500 free at 4:54.35.

Bill Yates (Santa Clara) was third in the 100 fly at 54.5 and fifth in the 200 fly at 2:05.49 and Mike Yates (Santa Clara) was fifth in the 100 free at 45.21 and sixth in the 50 free at 22.54 and the 200 free at 1:48.88.

West Valley also picked up seconds in the 400 free relay at 3:17.76 and the 800 free relay at 7:04.06.

Diablo Valley won the conference title by winning the dual meet title and finishing first at the finals with 574 points. West Valley was second with 438 points and Chabot was a distant third at 243.

Foley loses gem but fires, hits Broncos to wins

WHEN IS a no-hitter not a no-hitter? When it's a one-hitter!

That's a lesson Santa Clara University pitcher Rick Foley learned the hard way recently while pitching for the Broncos against St. Mary's.

Foley, a grad of Leigh high school in San Jose, was near perfect in whirling what appeared to be a no-hitter against St. Mary's. Foley, who whiffed nine, walked just three and another runner reached on an error.

But before Foley's no-hitter could go down into SCU baseball history with the other five Bronco gems tossed over the years, the official scorer had a change of heart.

The scorer changed a ninth inning Bronco error into a Gael hit and Foley had to be satisfied with a 4-0 one-hit shut-out win for Santa Clara in the West Coast Athletic Conference game.

The 6'2" junior right-hander ran his season record to 5-2 with the win over St. Mary's. He was helped out at the plate by a two-run Brian Hurley homer to paced SCU to the 4-0 victory.

BUT EVEN though he picked up the mound win, losing the no-hitter must have made Foley mad. Because the big junior came back a week later to take out his frustrations on the University of San Francisco.

Foley beat USF with his arm and his bat in two of three games a week after flipping the one-hitter.

Foley won his sixth straight game of the year on the mound for the Broncos in a 10-4 victory over USF.

George Hahn (Campbell) led the Bronc bat attack with a double, a triple and three runs-batted-in in four trips to the plate. Butch Rowe (Blackford) was two for three in the win.

A day later Foley beat USF with his bat when he blasted a three run homer in the sixth inning to pace Santa Clara to an 11-7 victory. Foley, playing the role of the Bronco designated hitter, smacked his homer in the sixth to up the score to 9-2 and give Santa Clara enough of a cushion to coast to the win.

Hahn also knocked in three runs in the game with a double and a single in four plate appearances.

Another former Leigh hurler, Steve Guyon, tossed Santa Clara to a win in the nightcap against USF. Guyon picked up the mound win in the seven inning game won by the Broncs 7-3. Hahn knocked in two runs in the triumph.

The win leveled Santa Clara's season record at 17-17 and the Bronc's WCAC log at 12-12.

WVC remains in fourth

Righetti too much for Viking batmen

"SAN JOSE looks good to me right now, better than San Mateo," said West Valley College baseball coach Steve Bordi a day after his Vikings lost a 6-0 nod to the tough Jags at the PAL Stadium. "They really look good."

The Vikings dropped deeper into fourth place in the Golden Gate Conference in the loss to the Jags, falling back to four games behind San Mateo and three behind San Jose.

"We played a good game, but they played very well," said Bordi of San Jose. "They just got too much pitching for us from Dave Righetti."

West Valley is battling to hold fourth place in the conference and win a berth in the post season play-offs. The Vikes sit just a game behind third place Diablo Valley College but fifth place Chabot is getting dangerously close to WVC.

The Vikes hold fourth at 9-7 and Chabot is hot on their heels at 7-7-2.

The two will lock up in an important GGC game Tuesday to start the final round in the conference regular season. West Valley will host Chabot Tuesday at 3 p.m. before visiting De Anza Thursday at 3 p.m. and entertaining San Francisco Saturday at 11 a.m.

WEST VALLEY played well three times last week, according to Bordi, but could manage just one GGC win.

"All three games were tight — you couldn't tell which way any of them would go until late," said Bordi. "I think that we're playing very good."

Fred Long (Mitty) was actually perfect on the mound for West Valley after facing the first 11 batters, but lost his perfecto and shut-out when he was touched for a long fourth inning homer by San Jose's David Steib.

San Jose went on from there to register the 6-0 victory despite a 13 strike-out pitching performance by Long. He walked four and gave up 10 hits.

West Valley could just pick up four hits in the loss, one each by Dennis Mork (Wilcox), now hitting an even .500 on the year, Mike Stine, Duke Triplett (Branham) and Ted Soza (Oak Grove), now hitting .330.

The Vikes loaded the bases twice, once with no outs, but couldn't score in the game against San Jose. A three run sixth proved the big difference in the game for the Jags.

Things went quite a bit better for West Valley a few days before against Laney when the Vikes ripped 10 hits on their way to a 9-0 win.

Russ Hayslip (Campbell) whirled a four hitter, fanning 12 and walking five, in running his league record to 3-2 and dropping his earned run average to 2.18. It was his first shut-out of the year.

MICKEY ROSE (Camden) was three for four with a pair of runs knocked in and Mork was two for five, including a bases loaded triple in the eighth.

Jim Jensen (Camden) was two for three with a double and a run-batted-in and Soza knocked in a run with a hit. Jeff Bell (Buchser) pinch hit a single and Jeff Kahn (Mitty) singled.

West Valley lost a 4-2 decision to league leading San Mateo earlier in the week, picking up just five hits.

Dave Painter (Branham) started on the mound for the Vikes but left under fire in the seventh.

Painter went into the frame with a 2-1 lead but gave up a run and left with the bases filled and two outs.

Hayslip came on and was called for a balk to allow the ultimate game winner to score. A solo homer in the ninth for San Mateo closed out the scoring.

Mork was two for three with a double and Rose, now hitting .457, and Mark Espinoza (Camden) both singled and drove in runs. Triplett also singled in the win.

Mork singled, swiped second, moved to third on an error and scored on a sacrifice fly to left by Rose to give WVC a 1-0 lead in the first.

San Mateo tied it 1-1 in the second but the Vikes went back on top in the sixth when Rose singled, moved to second on a ground out by Stine and scored on a single by Espinoza.

That just set the stage for San Mateo's seventh inning two run rally.

Ambler in tourney

SAN JOSE SUNBIRD second sacker Karen Ambler, a graduate of Santa Teresa high school, will be among the competitors in the Dewar's Sports Celebrity Tennis Tournament at the River in Las Vegas June 6-10.

Ambler will join a host of sports superstars that will include basketball's Julius Erving, Rick Barry and Walt Frazier; football's Paul Warfield, Fred Biletnikoff, Merlin Olsen, Lynn Swan and Ken Anderson; and hockey's Phil Esposito and Rod Gilbert.

Gymnast Cathy Rigby Mason will be among the female competitors along with Ambler.

Campbell products sparkle for Vikes

OUTSTANDING isn't a word that West Valley College track coach Bill Campbell uses lightly. But he had to use it twice last week when talking about the performance of two of his athletes.

Campbell rated the efforts of Steve Oravetz and Wayne Gray, both products of Campbell high school, outstanding in different meets in the past two weeks for the Vikings.

Oravetz was "outstanding" last weekend in the pole vault last Saturday at the Bakersfield Relays and Gray was just as "outstanding" the weekend before at the Northern California Decathlon championships.

Oravetz won the pole vault at 17' and was picked the outstanding field event performer of the meet last weekend at Bakersfield.

The Viking was just one and a half inches away from the National Junior College record. He had set the record at 17'1" earlier in the season but Charlie Brown of El Camino reset the mark at 17'1½" a few weeks ago.

Bob Paulin (Camden) also performed well at Bakersfield for West Valley, finishing 10th in the 10,000 meters in his first try in the event.

Gray finished fourth overall in the NorCal Decathlon meet in his first attempt at the 10-event program. His fourth place finish, and 6,219 point total, qualified him for the state meet in the event.

The top six finishers in the NorCal meet, and any athlete recording more than 6,000 points, qualifies for state competition.

Gray finished the first day with an impressive 3,579 points. He covered the 100 meters at 10.8, ran the 400 meters at 50.6, flew 5'9" in the high jump, soared 22'7" in the long jump and put the shot 35'.

THE SECOND day, battling through events he had never tried before, Gray chalked up 2,640 points.

Gray topped the pole vault bar at 9'6", hurled the discus 101' and the javelin 143' and covered the 110 high hurdles at 16.7 and the 1,500 meters at 4:50.

West Valley also took on powerful San Jose City College last week in Golden Gate Conference activity and lost a 106-39 decision.

Oravetz, Gray and Paulin each won events in the meet for the Vikings and were joined in the winner's circle by Kevin Harding (Camden) and Alan Harkness (Los Gatos).

Oravetz won the pole vault at 15'6" with Rick Vasquez (Camden) second at 15'6", his all-time best, and Paulin won the 5,000 meters at 15:08.9.

Gray took the long jump at 23', his season best and the third best in the history of WVC, and Mike Willis (Leigh) was third at 22'1¼". Willis was also second in the triple jump at 47'3".

Harding was a winner in the high jump at 6'6" and Harkness won the 3,000 meter steeplechase at 10:02.6.

Kevin Soulsby (Camden) was second in the 400 meters at 49.0, his season best and the second best in WVC history, and Tony Abate (Lincoln) was third in the javelin at 182'3", good for a new school record.

Joe Brazil (Wilcox) added a third in the 800 meters and the Viking 440 relay team of Gray, Brian Hurley (Branham), Roger Druhan (Leigh) and Rick Hoffman (Westmont) ran a strong 42.9 but lost to San Jose.

The Vikes will close out the GGC dual meet season on Wednesday in a 3 p.m. double dual meet at home against San Francisco and Laney.

Quakes host Seattle

SPARTAN Stadium will be overflowing with activity on Saturday night when the San Jose Earthquakes play host to the Seattle Sounders in an 8 p.m. North American Soccer League games.

The game will be broadcast over KX-RX radio (1500) beginning at 7:45 p.m.

The Quakes opened the 1977 season in a 3-0 loss to the Los Angeles Aztecs at Spartan before a sellout crowd of 18,136. LA scored all three of their goals in the second half.

Gutierrez' sets pace Vikes to spike victories

WITH ONE of their setters on the sidelines, the West Valley College Vikings had to depend quite a bit on George Gutierrez if they hoped to pick up a pair of volleyball victories last week. And Gutierrez responded just the way coach Claudine Simpson hoped he would.

Gutierrez, a product of Lincoln high school, played the major setter's role in two matches last week to pace the Vikings to a 16-14, 16-14, 12-15, 15-2 win over the City College of San Francisco and a 16-14, 15-8, 15-6 win over the University of California at Berkeley junior varsity.

"He was putting the ball exactly where the hitters needed it," said a pleased Simpson in praise of Gutierrez' efforts. "Our fast attack worked over City's middle continually."

"The back court defense was superior," added Simpson, discussing the win over CCSF. "Many sure putaways were picked up at the floor and that helped."

The Vikings will host Menlo College in a 7:30 p.m. game on Wednesday and will take on the Palo Alto Y AA team on Thursday.

On Saturday, April 24, the Vikes will compete in the league tournament at San Francisco State University.

BY LARI NEWBURY

SOMEDAY I am going to put together a tour of Europe that will feature some charming small towns that I have discovered in the past years. No capitals of countries will be allowed and no cities large enough to support a public transit system. Only villages that are small enough that they will respond with delight to a "typical tourist." How sweet it will be!

We will begin our tour by tentering central Europe and Geneva, zipping out of this city immediately to the small village of Chamoni. A quiet day or two of hiking, mountain watching and maybe a ride to the mountain tops in a cable car. From Chamonix we will go to central Italy, a quick visit to Florence, although certainly not qualified as a village, the people, the market, and their art, makes it a must when you are in this part of the world. A day trip south and a hydrofoil ferry brings us to the enchanted island of Capri. You can take the row boats inside the Blue Grotto or if you are feeling really adventurous, while other people row into the Blue Grotto, you can actually make the same trip by swimming. I have done this myself and recommend it highly as a truly unique tourist experience.

AFTER A couple of days of dining and resting let's zip up north to a town called Clagenfurt (almost to Vienna), situated in the southern Austrian Alps, it sits beside the Worthersee. A lovely town with its dragon in the center of town that watches you as you are sipping coffee in the sidewalk cafe.

The hotel we used in Clagenfurt was an ancient monastery that had been converted into a modest tourist hotel. A sheer joy for all of us. Near the hotel we were able to participate in the early morning local farmers market. Great fun and good food.

From Clagenfurt I would somehow make my way to the lakeside village of Zell Am See. Unbelievably, we found a small cafe in Zell Am See that served the best hamburger we had tasted since leaving "McDonald land."

FROM Zell Am See let's go to the famed town of Rothenburg, a medieval city in it's original splendor. Cobblestone streets, small shops and hotels and great restaurants. It is on the Romantic Road between Munich and Frankfurt. The drive itself is through villages, such as Dinkelsbuhl to Heidvelberg and on north avoiding Frankfurt and Wiesbaden.

Let's continue on to the town on the Rhine called Rudensheim. This town boasts the best wine on the Rhine and the tiniest street in the country. I believe that they are right on both accounts.

I can't help but feel these villages would be your favorite memories as you find yourself remembering your tour through Europe.

BOWERS NAMED MANAGER

Richard J. Bowers, a former San Jose resident, has returned to this area as manager of the Prudential Insurance Company's agency at 1901 S. Bascom ave. in Campbell.

Formerly manager of the company's Phoenix agency, Bowers returned to San Jose after an eight-year absence. Under his leadership the Phoenix agency's volume rose from $8 million annually to more than $40 million last year.

Bowers and his wife Betty have four daughters and three sons. One son, Tim, is a Prudential agent in Phoenix.

$81 AND TIRED FEET

Ten-year-old Steven Blair, 4731 Lage drive, took in $81 for the March of Dimes last month by completing the 30 kilometer (19.6 miles) March of Dimes Walkathon. The fourth grader at Forest Hill school limped up to the finish line at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds at 3 p.m., two hours before the official end of the march.

Despite sore feet, Steven went to school next morning. "He collected more money from his sponsors than anyone else in the neighborhood that we know of," his mother proudly announced.

ACHIEVEMENTS AWARD FOR PROCHAZKA

Kenneth R. Prochazka of Campbell was one of six recipients recently of Western Electric's Achievement Award, announced engineering and service manager James B. Martin. He was recognized for standardizing a data system, using existing equipment, and for providing uniformity in the transmission of personnel information.

In addition to receiving awards for engineering developments in 1976, the six men were also inducted into the Engineering Achievement Society.

STUDENTS WIN TRIP

The Annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, sponsored by Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges, was won by Lynn Patterson, of Prospect High School, and runner up Ann Shiomoto of Campbell High School.

The two winners will receive a month-long charter bus trip to New York in June, which includes four days at the United Nations conferring with different delegates each day.

Five judges screened the contestants from local high schools on civic participation, a written theme, and a speech contest last month at Lynbrook High School.

CAMPBELL'S Cindy Beleu is among dancers in Ballet San Jose Jr. Company's spring concert at Yerba Buena High School on Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30. Evening performances begin at 8 p.m. both days with a Saturday matinee set for 2:30 p.m. Tickets, $2 each, are available at the door.

An Affair to Remember with
BEA RENÉ
© Bea Rene 1975

Very amiable Mgr. Roger Shilling at CLEMENTINE'S tells me their new 3 pc. group — "GOOD NATURE" has been very popular in their lounge. They perform Wed.-Sat. to a lively crowd. Easter was a big event at CLEMENTINE'S & Mother's Day w/be even bigger & better — you can be assured of that. Mom w/not only be inspired by the fine "cuisine" but also by the charming decor of the 1920's — Moms are always nostalgic anyway & CLEMENTINE'S is the place to be just that.

Wherever you travel in the Bay Area, there's a SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED close by for unvarying quality & modest prices. Their V.I.P. Steak is as tender in Belmont as it is in Fremont. Their lavish & tempting salad bar is as appealing in Saratoga as it is in Oakland. Louisiana Red Snapper is as delicately prepared in S.F. as in Belmont. Whichever SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED you choose, you can always count on unlimited pitchers of cold beer or sangria or bottles of burgundy or chablis incl. in the price of the dinner.

Last Sat. Travel Agent Bonny Richmond (L.S.A. Travel Consultants) & I enjoyed lunch at the LOS GATOS LODGE. What a lively crowd & a lovely outlook w/the sun streaming thru the trees over the beautiful green grounds — it was a very lively affair w/many early morning golfers enjoying the fine cuisine of Chef Wilhelm. Bar master James Ross was on hand to keep everyone's glass filled & participate in the lively conversation — if you can't make it for lunch, do stop by for a great Continental feast, selecting from their new menu!

Charming Owner Mario Uribe w/be treating Moms to his usual festive greeting at either LA POSADA or EL BURRC . . . he'll be giving "a flower to Mom" & serving his fine Mexican cuisine — she'll think you've taken her on a real trip to Old Mexico. The EL BURRO is located in the PruneYard & the new LA POSADA in the Old Mill Specialty Center where you may select from sep. D.R.'s; i.e., Las Palmas, the El Gallo, El Mercado or perhaps dine on the Garden Patio at umbrella tables which overlook the Old Mill waterwheel & stream.

Mgr. Gary Wilcox w/be on hand at STEAK & ALE on Mother's Day to present every Mom w/a fresh flower. Their Mother's Day dinner w/cost $5.25 & w/incl. Baked Ham, choice of baked potato, sweet potato or rice pilaf, soup of salad, vegs., hot bread & butter. Children under 12, $3.25. This special dinner w/be served from 12-8 p.m. & you'll also be able to choose from their reg. menu. Put this on your list of selections today.

There are those who associate the word "DISCO" w/a type of wild bebopping rock & roll dancing w/dancers to match . . . However, the more sophisticated discotheques are now entertaining to all age groups playing all types of music. Such is the case w/the well liked D.J., "CHAD JEFFERIES" at the 94TH AERO SQUADRON. His popular downstairs bunker lounge is filled w/dancers & those who enjoy good music every Tues.-Sat. nights from 8:30-1:30 a.m. ROXANNE is there every Sun. w/big band sounds of the 40's.

Merit Sparks Low Tar Boom!

'Enriched Flavor'™ tobacco seen as major factor in unprecedented smoker move to low tar.

Since its introduction, MERIT has become one of the most popular new cigarettes in twenty years.

A popularity largely responsible for a significant growth in low tar smoking.

The reason: 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers extra flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The kind of flavor smokers can switch to—and stick with.

Here are the taste-test results which show why smokers are switching to MERIT. If you smoke, you'll be interested.

REGULAR and MENTHOL

Tests Prove Taste

MERIT and MERIT 100's were both tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes. The results proved conclusively that 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco does boost taste without the usual increase in tar.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar! Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

And you can taste it.
